Infants and Toddlers focus: -

Toddlers have been experiencing lots of learning from the wide range of resources. Through this, children have constantly developed self-confidence, self-awareness and a trusting relationship within the learning environment. Our toddlers are out exploring the new world that is around them, as their current interests are mostly art, pretend play, manipulative toys. Music and outdoor play. They have been actively taking participation in all the activities and developing their creative and strengthening their muscles. Overall our infants and toddlers are quite settled, confident and enjoy their play.

Preschool focus: -

The month of May was full of celebrations and activities which provided opportunities for our children to further develop their creativity, strengthen their muscles and loco-motor skills. Children further learnt to respect diverse cultures during Samoan Language Week Celebration. Parents involvement in this cultural event was significant as one of our Samoan parent joined us to prepare Kai for the children. Furthermore, over two children explored outdoor area which further developed their confidence in taking challenges during obstacle courses. All the preschoolers extended their interest in transports by learning about Ambulance and Police. A range of art activities further enhanced creativity and imagination of the children to put their ideas and feelings in practice. Overall, the month of May brought lots of opportunities for our tamariki to become confident and competent learners.
